Gift of Wonder: Creative practices for delighting in God, with Dr. Christine Aroney-Sine

10:00 - 11:30 AM

A contemplative activist, passionate gardener, and author. She is the founder and facilitator for the popular contemplative blog Godspace, (godspacelight.com) which grew out of her passion for creative spirituality, gardening and sustainability.

Delight, fun and laughter lead us to enjoy God. Jesus tells his followers “unless you become like children you cannot enter the kingdom.” Sadly, we live in a culture of play deprivation, awe depletion, imagination suppression and nature deficit disorder. So, we suffer from God deprivation too. In this interactive seminar we will discover how practices like play-date adventures, awe and wonder walks, compassion games and joy spot sightings can enrich our spiritual life and draw us closer to God.

Creating Your Best Church for the 2020s, with Dr. Tom Sine

12:30 - 2:00PM

Futurist and author who facilitates creativity workshops to enable everyone from college students to congregations to create innovative ways to live and make a difference. His most recent book celebrates the concerns and creativity of the millennial generation: Live Like You Give A Damn! Join the Changemaking Generation.

As the 2020s quickly approach, new opportunities and challenges that lie ahead for your congregations and neighborhoods. In this workshop you will be encouraged by stories of innovative congregations and invited to dream and reflect creatively about what it means to participate in God’s deep purposes for our world, starting in your neighborhood!
