

Hello! My name is Hannah Hausmann, and I am a member of St. Marks Lutheran Church in Williamsport, Pennsylvania. I graduated from Williamsport Area High School in 2020, and went on to earn a degree in Communication Arts from Washington & Jefferson College in Washington, Pennsylvania. After graduation in 2024, I worked at Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens in Pittsburgh, where I was able to combine my love of communication, community engagement, and environmental sustainability.

I have been Lutheran my whole life and my faith has been shaped by a variety of communities. One of the most influential has been Camp Mount Luther. I spent time at camp nearly every summer of my childhood before returning as a counselor for two summers. It was there that I first learned about Young Adults in Global Mission (YAGM). After several years of careful consideration, I took a leap of faith and applied for the 2026 cohort. I am excited to begin serving in Battambang Province, Cambodia, where I will teach English at a rural high school while also working on a variety of projects with the Lutheran Hope Cambodia Organization.

What drew me to YAGM is its emphasis on accompaniment. I believe we grow most when we approach others with a willingness to listen deeply and learn from one another. I hope this year will deepen my faith, broaden my understanding of God's global church, and help me live more simply and intentionally.

Thank you for taking the time to learn a little about me. I am incredibly grateful for your prayers, encouragement, and support as I prepare for this year of service.
